It takes a village

Parenting is one of the greatest privileges and comes with so many rewards but these days it can also be incredibly stressful. When your children are young, you may feel like you rarely have a moment to yourself and when they are teens, you find yourself driving to and fro every day of the week. But the truth is, as parents we have to take care of ourselves so we can give our best to our kids. It's ok to need a break once in a while and it's normal to need support or help along the way from family members, babysitters, wise counselors or more. The old saying is that it takes a village to raise a child and there is a lot of truth to that.

So, parents, take time to replenish yourselves, to reach out to others to give you a break - time for a walk, a bath, or time in the peaceful woods. Don't be shy about needing support in this "job" called parenthood, because the truth is, we all do. We need to support each other in order to raise up this next generation with kindness and respect.

Shell Lake Library Events

Teen Advisory Board Shell Lake Public Library received some great input and insights from a teen advisor at the first meeting. We'd like to keep growing our members. The next meeting is Saturday, November 4th at 11am, at the Public Library.

We invite more Shell Lake Teens (6th-10th grades) to join the Teen Advisory Board. TAB members teens will have opportunities to offer technical expertise, suggest materials for the library, advise staff, plan and facilitate events, learn advocacy skills and be a steward of their public library. More information is available at the library and at the school. This program is co-sponsored by AODA of Washburn County.
